S. F. Annexation Threat Shifts to State Legislature

THE TOWN RECORD

By MONTE DAYTON

A hoary old statute was brought out of hock recently and poked right at DON and ANNA MIDDELTON of Daly City.

It seems a coupie of old beaus turned schmoes as they filed suit against ANNA to obtain repossession of expensive trinkets (or comparable remuneration in U. S. currency), which they had given her in daze past.

The archaic statute employed by the two gentlemen in this case reads that a man shall be entitled to regain objets d'amour given on the assumption that matrimony is in the offing.

One former suitor claims to have given Mrs. Middelton $4600 worth of pretties, while the other's bill reads $710. The two suing suitors had never met before but seemed to have come upon common judicial grounds in this case.

A San Francisco Superior Judge threw their case out Monday, giving them ten days to modify their application.

"We're not a bit worried," says Mr. Middelton, sales manager at CARL HAAS Buick. "We'll let them sue until they get tired."

The two former suitors have a knack for originality, however. It's the first time the legal gimmick has been in action for nearly 30 years.

STEVE "THE BARBER" ANNIS is now in fine fettle at his home at 6138 Mission after a week in the hospital. Adding to his cheer when he first arrived home were several local police officers, among them DEAN (He's probably tagged your car) WOOD. Dean helped make things comfortable around the house for the well known tonsorial artist and even whipped up a breakfast for him one morning. . . . a round of applause for the local gendarmes.

The number 627 seems ill-fated for some local motorists. Drivers licenses recently suspended by the state department of motor vehicles belonged to HENRY JOHN SUTTER, 627 Niantic, and VERECE MARTIN, same number, on Templeton avenue.

Coming home from the annual city employees festivities at isolated Miramar early last Sunday morning, only one serious casualty was reported. MR. and MRS. AUGUST BENASSINI and MR. and MRS. FRANK SPECHT suffered a flat tire so the gents ventured out into the foggy morn, rolled up their sleeves and did their duty. Further minor casualties were reported by others Sunday morning on awakening.

Christmas was early here last week. LIEUT. STEPHEN B. WATSON, who said "I do" just 17 days before sailing overseas 14 months ago, came home to celebrate Christmas with all the appropriate yuletide trimmings. As he walked down the gangplank of the troopship General J. C. Breckenridge at Fort Mason, he was greeted by his wife, NORMA, and two of her friends, ROSANNA BILLER and KATHY ADAMS. Mrs. Watson has been living at the Biller home, 34 Rice street. All the Christmas decor was waiting for him when he got home and the celebration was done up with all the necessary gusto. Watson was so excited by all the fanfare he didn't even notice that Norma had turned from a platinum blonde into a brunette, her normal hair color.

Supervisor THOMAS J. CALLAN SR. was ready to "throw the bums out" Friday. The occasion was the Jefferson-Capuchino basketball game, and according to Callan, the referees not only needed glasses but could have done better with a couple of guide dogs. Most of the enmity subsided, however, when the local teams emerged victorious in both con-

Voters Go To Polls Thursday to Pass On $840,000 Bond Issue

Voters of the Jefferson Elementary School District will go to the polls next Thursday to cast their vote on an $840,000 bond issue for the district.

Passage of the bond issue would enable the district to apply for $910,000 of state aid money as the district would then be bonded to the legal maximum.

California's voters approved the setting up of an $185,000,000 fund for state aid to schools with the passage of Proposition 2 in the recent election.

The proposition stipulated, however, that to apply for a part of this fund, a district must be bonded to its maximum limit, five per cent.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. Rides will be furnished to the voting places and baby sitting service will be offered by the citizens' committee for better schools, headed by Peter Markovich. For any information voters have been asked by Markovich to call PL 5-2262.

H. Z. Weibel, superintendent of the school district, has pointed out the urgency of passing the bond issue. "Its passage," Weibel said, "Means that adequate classrooms can be made available to offset the serious double sessions

CITY COUNCIL APPROVES HIRING OF TWO PERSONS FOR POLICE DEPARTMENT

The city council Monday passed a motion approving the addition of a matron-stenographer and one more patrolman to the police department.

Juanita Giusti, a clerk in the water department, will take over her new duties Monday in the local department, according to Dan Andersen, city administrator.

The council has scheduled interviews for Monday night, beginning at 7:30 p.m., for the hiring of another patrolman. Those eligible for the position are: Philip La Bruzzo, Gerald Schaeffer and Louis Avanzino.

The council is expected to appoint one of these three at their February 9 meeting, and the appointment will become effective February 16.

In other business Monday night the council:

1) Called for advertising of bids for purchase of gymnasium equip-

MUNI RAILWAY SAYS BUS SERVICE TO CONTINUE HERE

Statements circulated last week to the effect that bus service for the Broadmoor - Westlake area would be abandoned have no foundation, according to Robert Williamson, of the municipal railway information bureau.

Williamson said discontinuing of the No. 76 line "hasn't even been considered," at this time.

Whether the matter would be discussed at Tuesday's meeting of the railway executives was not known, Williamson said.

However, Wiliamson said that use of the newly-inagurated service is only about half what it should be to make the bus service pay for itself.

The railway originally put the service on a 90-day trial period, according to Williamson, but he indicated that the trial period would undoubtedly run longer.

There is always the possibility that the service might be discontinued in the future if the railway continues to lose money, he said, but added that there is just as much chance that the company would continue to provide service here even in the face of the loss.

Williamson said the company hoped that service would begin picking up now that more people are aware of the bus line operating here.

Mrs. Quessy Calls on City

Everything from the ramp at the community center to the city administrator was in for a scathing attack in the usually staid council chambers Monday night as Mrs. Johanna Quessy, 319 Irvington, came as a delegation of one to put things right in this city.

Just as Mayor Anthony Gaggero was about to ring down the gavel to close the meeting Mrs. Quessy arose in high-dudgeon and demanded of City Administrator Dan Andersen why no runway had been installed for the dogs at the pound.

Before the city official could answer the implacable little irishwoman fired again: "How would you, Mr. Andersen, like to be stuck in a cage with no chance to move around?"

Again, no time for comment on the part of Andersen.

"What are your qualifications for the city administrator job?" she went on.

Again, no time for comment.

"Councilman Green took you out of a theatre and got you this job," she said.

Then she took up arms against the community center, which she said "looks like a

Bill Is Introduced To Make Action Possible

A bill has been introduced in the state assembly that would make possible annexation of Westlake and Broadmoor by the city and county of San Francisco, THE RECORD learned yesterday.

The legislation was introduced by Charles W. Meyers, 19th district assemblyman from San Francisco.

The bill is expected to be printed by February 6 but no action will be taken on it until at least February 24, when the legislators reconvene.

May Be Annexed

The bill (section 35103.5) reads: "Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, boundaries of any city or city and county may be altered and territory lying in another county may be annexed to it pursuant to this article."

Legislation of a similar nature was also introduced in the form of an amendment by Senator Earl Desmond of Sacramento. It provides for annexation by one county of city property resting in another county.

It was drawn up expressly for the situation existing in the city of Sacramento, which seeks to annex territory in Yolo county.

Contrary to Constitution

William Spiegal, attorney for the city supervisors association in Sacramento, told THE RECORD that Meyers' bill doesn't seem to have a chance because it runs contrary to the constitution. He said an amendment to the current annexation laws was more in order.

However, Meyers said there was no stipulation in the constitution that made such annexations illegal. Therefore, he said, the bill would act as an addition to the present law. (Opinion of the state legislative counsel was: "At present there is no law providing for annexation of one part of one county by another, the only provision for such an annexation being extremely limited in scope and permitting only a minor adjustment of boundaries and a mutual exchange of territory.")

The legislative counsel was of the opinion that if a law is adopted upon the subject, it must be general (applicable to all counties) and it must also contain provisions for payment of a just proportion of the debts and liabilities.

Clearly Prohibited

The counsel's final statement on the mater was that a special law, removing territory from one county and annexing it to another, appears clearly prohibited.

Meyers said he had not looked into the full legal ramifications of such an annexation and added that his bill was drawn up expressly with this and San Francisco counties in mind. However, he said, the action would be applicable in all counties throughout the state if passed.

Edward P. Mancuso, San Francisco supervisor who instigated the recent annexation move, said he is waiting for a full report from Thomas Brooks, chief administrative officer, before any further action by the city and county of San Francisco.

Mancuso said he had asked an attorney to check all available statutes on the matter and indicated that a hearing "might be held soon" on the matter.

MOTHERS MARCH TO BE STAGED TUESDAY NIGHT

Approximately 300 Daly City mothers will be on the march Tuesday night between 7 and 8 p.m. to help raise funds for the March of Dimes' fight against polio.

The Mothers March here is being conducted through the local PTAs. Last year's march here was successful to the extent that more than $2600 was collected.

Persons wishing to contribute to the fight against polio should leave thier porchlights on Tuesday during the march.

Those wishing to aid in the march or contribute should contact the following local PTA chairmen: Colma, Mrs. D. F. Beaton, 98 West Cavour street, PL. 5-5982; Jefferson High, Mrs. G. A. Blackburn, 76 Peoria street, JU. 4-2651; Crocker, Mrs. A. Lyon, 86 Muir-

Public Hearing Set On Sewage Plant

Date for a public hearing on the engineer's report for the proposed half-million dollar sewage disposal plant has been set at Friday, February 20, at 8 p.m. in the council chambers.

Following the hearing, machinery can be set into motion for establishing a date for a bond election in the district, which includes Daly City, Broadmoor and Colma, according to James Kennedy, secretary of the district.

The proposed sewage plant will be of the primary treatment type and will be located just off Lake Merced boulevard near Alemany extension in Westlake.

It will consist of two digester tanks and one clarifier tank.

The district's board of directors met this week and approved the overall report submitted by District Engineer Harry Jenks.

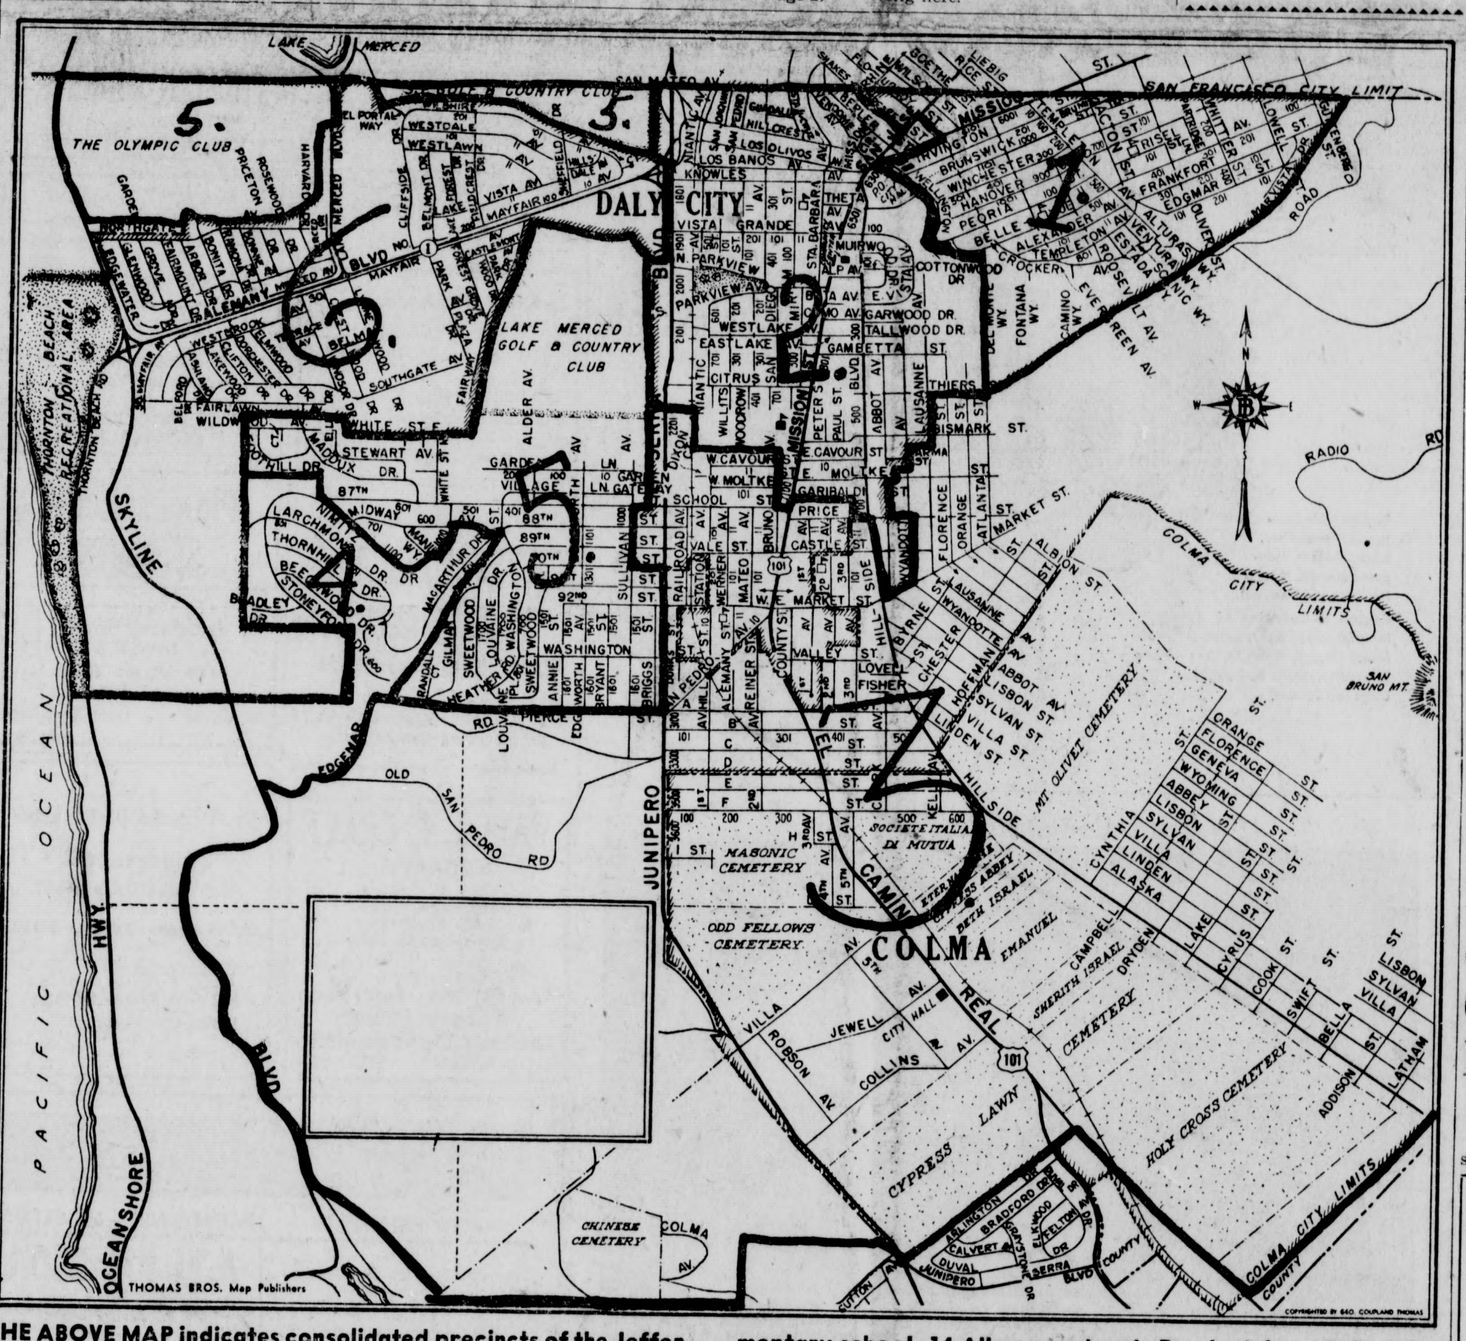
AUXILIARY POLICE STILL NEED MEN

To date only six men have reported for training as auxiliary policemen, according to Sergeant Dave Hansen, instructor.

Hansen said at least 20 more men were needed to bring the auxiliary force to full strength.

Courses will begin next week and Hansen urges all those interested in becoming members of the force to contact him at the police department, PL 5-4212.

Instructors for the classes are: Hansen, police theory and practice; Dean Wood, first aid; and Jim Welsh, range master.



THE ABOVE MAP indicates consolidated precincts of the Jefferson elementary school district. Check which precinct you are in so that you may find the proper polling place: Precinct one, Crocker school, 649 Bellevue avenue; Precinct two, Woodrow Wilson school, 43 Miriam street; Precinct three, Jefferson elementary school, 14 Allemany street; Precinct four, S. R. Johns residence, 820 Stoneyford drive, Colma; Precinct five, Garden Village school, end of Garden Lane; Precinct six, Westlake school, Fieldcrest drive and Lake Vista avenue. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Thursday.

Citizens' Chairman Cites Urgency Of Passing School Bonds

Peter J. Markovich
Chairman, Citizens' Committee

Faced with a growing space shortage in the schools, the rapidly expanding population and the continuous problem of double sessions in the class rooms, voters of the Jefferson Elementary School District will have to decide at the polls on Thursday, February 5, whether to meet this important problem with new construction or have our own children subject to partial education. Yes, I say partial education because everyone with common sense knows the youngster cannot absorb sufficient knowledge by attending half-day sessions.

Other Set-Backs

There are many other set-backs suffered under these conditions. One of the most outstanding is tests.

If you're ever around the corner of Vista Grande and Mission and hear a voice whooping it up like a cowpoke moving the little dogies along, it's probably GEORGE AUGUSTEIN, who sees to it that the small fry make it to and from school safe and sound. George, who rates pretty high on most of the kids' lists, has to do a lot of talking to get his flock along, but they get there.

The HONORABLE JUDGE (a title justly bestowed) WILLIAM SWEENEY, who was wined, dined and testimonied last night after his departure from the judgeship, discards his dignified aplomb occasionally and if you hit it right, you might find him in a grease-monkey outfit underneath a worn vehicle trying to correct the case.

MRS. RUTH HARTMAN, teacher at Toyland Nursery school, is the newest on the list for substitute teachers for the Jefferson elementary school district. She trained in Nebraska, which is the home state of District Superintendent H. Z. WEIBEL. Annotation: Weibel is up and around again after an operation. He is expected to be in shipshape within two or three weeks.

the home, where there are two children, one attending morning session and the other afternoon.

This places a definite hardship upon the mother because it disrupts the normal home-life she had formerly designed. Another and more dangerous factor is that it gives too much idle time to the youngsters and some of the weaker ones find themselves involved with the law. Since split session has taken hold, juvenile delinquency has increased threefold.

In weighing the tax dollar, I am certain the American public prefer spending it for sound educational systems than for institutions of correction. Your child is a symbol of goodness and you as a parent do everything to guard him against the sins of the world. You are concerned about his welfare and progress.

Population Problem

Education, as you know, is the key to success, so you magnify your efforts towards seeing that your youngsters' educational program is well rounded. This is your formula. However, sometimes due to conditions, there arises a setback in your plans and we in the Jefferson Elementary School District, because of the tremendous growth in population, are experiencing this reversal. The answer is:

More class rooms. This means an added sacrifice dollarwise, for it requires a great deal of money to acquire land and build class rooms. Our bonding capacity is $840,000 which is not sufficient to take care of our present needs. However, due to the passage of Proposition No. 24 at the last general election, $185,000,000 was set aside for distress school districts. Of this we are asking $910,000. However, to receive this, Proposition No. 1 must pass. Your cost by voting YES will mean about two cigarettes a day.

At present there are 1731 youngsters on split session. Breaking this down, to 35 youngsters per class means additional 49½ class rooms.

Same Pattern

At the conclusion of this term there will be seven eighth grade classes graduating and 21 first grade classes entering. This same pattern will apply next year.

Speaking of crises, we are definitely facing one. Our educational system is riding the boarder of disaster unless the two proposed measures are passed.

The old axiom of "Penny wise and pound foolish" in our circumstances will have a great deal of bearing for the wrong mark on the ballot will mean taking away the best insurance we can give our youngsters and this is the well rounded education. Democracy, in order to flourish, requires sound minds educated in our American class rooms.

"Our Nearest Neighbor" Is Subject for February Show at Planetarium

"Our Nearest Neighbor in Space," the moon, is the subject for the February show at Morrison Planetarium in Golden Gate Park, George W. Bunton, Planetarium manager, anonunced this week.

The February show will explain the motions of the moon and its phases. Surface features will be shown by lantern slides with the huge dome of the Planetarium acting as a projection screen. The great crater of Copernicus will be singled out for special attention.

Planetarium shows are presented daily except Monday and Tuesday at 3:30 and 8:15 p.m. with an extra 2 p.m. performance on weekends and holidays. The January show, "Under the Southern Cross," will conclude on Saturday (Jan. 31.)

GOLDEN GATE BRIDGE TO BE STRENGTHENED

Plans for strengthening the Golden Gate Bridge were speeded this week after unanimous approval by the Board of Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District of the $3,500,000 project as recommended by a Board of three eminent engineers.

The Board also authorized a contract to be executed with Clifford E. Paine of Chicago, chief of the Engineering Board, to prepare plans and specifications and to have full engineering supervision of the work. It tentatively approved Paine's proposal to perform these duties for a fee of five (5) per cent of the construction contract.

Initial improvement will be the addition of a bottom lateral system of steel bracing to the bridge, which is designed to stabilize its movement in severe wind storms. The Bridge would be strengthened for the full 6450-foot length of the suspended spans.

Martorana Bros. Named to Dodge-Plymouth Agency

Frank and Joseph Martorana, brothers, have been appointed Dodge-Plymouth dealers, in Daly City. D. B. Mooney, San Francisco regional manager, Dodge Division of Chrysler Corporation, recently announced this appointment of the new dealership, Aero Motors, located at 6465 Mission street.

Prior to being appointed to this Dodge-Plymouth dealership, the Martorana brothers were dealers for another line of cars at their present location. Both men have extensive experience in the automobile business. Joseph Martorana was formerly manager of Martorana used cars. Frank Martorana has been associated with the Chrysler Corporation in the past as office and sales manager for Chrysler, Plymouth and Dodge dealerships.

Plans for a new, modern building for Aero Motors were announced at the same time by the Martorana brothers. The new, enlarged building will be located in Daly City at 7073 Mission street and will provide for an ultra-modern showroom, complete facilities for service and parts departments as well as a large customer parking lot. Aero Motors will be in their new location by May of this year.

Both of the Martorana brothers are native San Franciscans. They have many friends and customers in this area and extend an invitation to all of them to come in and see the new line of 1953 Dodge and Plymouth cars and Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks.

The Reason for Our Consistent Support

We have consistently supported the raising of moneys for increased school facilities. We feel that the cost of the bonded indebtedness to each individual taxpayer can never approach the value which accrues to the community through adequate education.

For a maximum of $5 a year, which breaks down to about one penny a day, the people of the Jefferson elementary school district can rest assured that their children will reach maturity with a well-rounded education.

At present 1731 children are attending school on double sessions. That means 1731 children are not getting the proper prompting in "readin, 'ritin and rithmetic."

And lack of proper education at the elementary age can impair a child's capabilities for life.

If he doesn't start out with the basic fundamentals, he'll never be able to grasp any more advanced learning.

Fathers and mothers can see fit to give little Johnny or Mary dancing, singing, piano, etc., lessons as $3 to $5 a crack, yet some overlook the necessity of basic elementary education. And that can be purchased, with the voters' approval, for one penny a day.

It's a bargain, and if the fathers and mothers don't see fit to take advantage of it, the results will be disastrous.

The Land Grabbers on the Move

The big land grab plan of San Francisco has now reached the state level.

They have discovered that their hair-brained plan to annex Westlake and Broadmoor has no legal foundation and so now they contrive, by exercising their lobbying machine on the state level, to change the state's laws to conform to their own acquisitive interests.

At present there is no law allowing the annexation of one county's property by another.

The bill just introduced in the assembly would enter on the statutes a piece of legislation that would allow such action.

However, in order to be constitutional, the law must be applicable to all counties.

A special law, removing territory from one county and annexing it to another would be prohibited.

Therefore, in event that the current annexation bill passes, this county is in just as good a position to annex portions of San Francisco county.

Not that we have professed to any desire for such a move. The prospect of two counties voraciously annexing each other's property seems anything but rational.

A Way to Save Taxpayers $50,000,000

The Delano Chamber of Commerce has come up with the first real tax-reducing scheme we've seen to date.

Pointing out that the "tax burden upon the people has become almost unbearable," the Chamber calls to attention the fact that in the immediate future California schools will spend over $500,000,000 on new school buildings.

The Chamber adds that, of this sum, approximately $50,000,000 will therefore be spent on architects' fees and costs of inspection, unless a drastic change is made in the present haphazard system of drawing individual plans and specifications for every school construction job.

Their plan is that a division of architecture be established in the state department of education and that this division have the responsibility of furnishing all plans and specifications for school construction projects and that a pool of school plans be established to meet the basic needs of every school district.

In view of the fact that architects collect a fee ranging up to eight per cent of the cost of school propects, while inspection and other red tape run the figure up about two more per cent, we can see no reason why such a plan devised by the Chamber would not save the taxpayers a healthy amount.

We go along with the idea and suggest that the state representatives from this district throw their weight behind the plan.

Keep the Lights Burning Tuesday Night

Tuesday night some 300 Daly City mothers will be on the march to collect funds for the fight against polio.

The immediacy of this dread disease is felt right in this community every month, with an average of three cases being reported.

One individual, or one family, is no match for polio. The only method of fighting it is through the combined efforts of all—the people who someday may themselves be helpless victims.

Turn on your porchlights, and open your heart and your pocketbook Tuesday night. You'll feel good to know that you've helped one of America's most worthy causes.

BURKETT BARES $20 MILLION FRAUD ON JOBLESS PAY

One of the State's worst scandals was brought to light Tuesday in a speech delivered in San Francisco by William A. Burkett, Executive Vice President of the Inter-Association Unemployment Insurance Committee, a nonprofit employers' association.

Burkett, speaking at the Palace Hotel before a noon luncheon meeting of the Commonwealth Club of California's Committee on Taxation and Legislation, disclosed that nearly 20 million dollars was paid out last year in fraudulent claims for jobless pay to thousands of Californians who drew the money from the State when they should and could have been employed. Thousands swindle the State, he said, while at the same jobs.

Herbert Hanley, Commonwealth Club Committee Chairman, introduced Burkett as the former ace Treasury Agent who was credited by the State Crime Commission and by the Kefauver Senate Crime Committee as the one who originally exposed the tax scandals in the Bureau of Internal Revenue. After Burkett resigned in August 1950 to expose publicly the Internal Revenue scandals, he became employed by a Committee of 25 employer associations to make certain inquiries as to the operations of the California Department of Employment.

In attacking the State-wide racket, Burkett said that while jobs have gone begging in California at defense plants and elsewhere, and while farm labor has by necessity been imported to fill jobs, there were 555,492 persons in California who stayed home and drew $101,750,593 while remaining idle during the 12-month period ending November 30, 1952.

Burkett said that what he learned by standing in line to talk with those seeking weekly jobless pay awards was shocking. One out of every five claimants he interviewed admitted fraudulently receiving jobless pay from the State. He said 49% of the State's claimants drew from 2 to 6 months of jobless pay.

Ocean View CD Group Meets

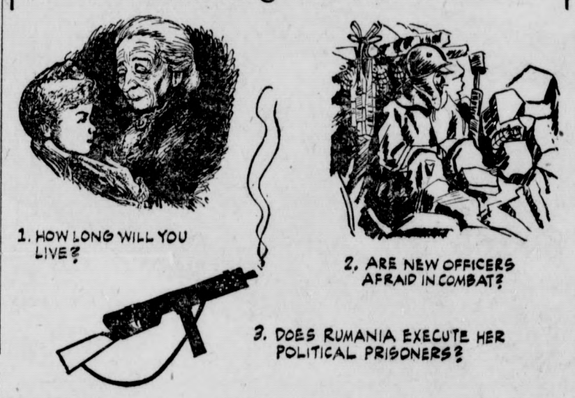
District 13 of the Rescue and First Aid Service of the Disaster Corps held its monthly meeting at the Oceanview Recreation Center last week. District Chief Waldo F. Postel Jr. addressed the group and reported on progress.

Recruiting is proceeding rapidly but many more volunteers are needed. A recruiting display will be set up at the Serra Theatre, 2710 Junipero Serra boulevard, February 4 through 7 in connection with the showing there of "Invasion U.S.A." Interested persons are urged to attend.

Mr. Charles Henry, Chief of the Headquarters Survey Section, was present and inspected the building with a view to its use as a casualty station.

The movie, "The Atom Strikes," depicting the atomic destruction of Hiroshima and Nagasaki was shown.

Knowledge is Power



(1) If you're a man, chances are you'll live to be 66. The average woman lives to become more than 71 years old. These figures are taken from the annual report of the U. S. Public Health service. Your own life expectancy and the factors which determine it are outlined by Paul D. Green in This Week magazine. These factors are the year and place of your birth, your present age, new advances in wonder drugs, whether or not you're married, your occupation, where you live, your economic status, weight, affection (or lack of it) for liquor, your disposition, and family environment.

The male born in 1919 has an initial life expectancy of 52½ years as compared with 65 years and 11 months for the boy born last year. Married persons can add five years to their life expectancy. Small town folks and farmers live longer than city residents.

(2) They are scared and lonesome, reports Bill Mauldin in his book, "Bill Mauldin in Korea." He tells the story of a big second lieutenant from Brooklyn who was going on his first combat patrol. The new looie expected the infantrymen to be hostile toward him, but during the night patrol a BAR corporal came up to him.

"Don't worry, lieutenant," he said. "We'll take care of you." After the officer had been with the men for a few days he commented. "They are such decent guys . . . It is a shame guys like this can't get in a pleasanter line of work."

(3) Some, of course, are executed; but most of them are sent to Vacaresti prison, a Catholic Digest picture story reveals. Vacaresti is a former monastery near Bucharest which has been converted into a prison for persons whose political views do not conform with those of Rumania's Red rulers. No one has escaped yet from Vacaresti. Only corpses are carried from the building.

When the prison becomes crowded, work details are shipped to the Carpathian salt mines where the men work as slaves below the earth until they die from malnutrition and exhaustion.

AROUND THE AREA

A Schoolboy's Jaunt

An 11-year-old San Mateo schoolboy is 35 cents poorer, after travelling 2500 miles to Springfield, Ill.

The youth turned himself in to police in Springfield last week after he ran away from his home, 801 El Camino Real, Thursday morning.

The youth told police that he had run away from home because he had received an "F" grade in deportment two weeks ago and that his grades had been slipping since.

The boy made his trip in 60 hours, two train trips and 35 cents.

His parents plan to go to Springfield and bring him back.

Repeat Tragedy

In the second tragedy of its kind in Palo Alto in three months, Mrs. Wilma Rae Franklin, 58, a real estate operator and mother of two grown sons, burned to death early Monday in a fire at her apartment, 550 Forest avenue.

The victim was found seated in the charred remains of an upholstered chair in her living room.

Santa Clara County Deputy Coroner Tom Husband said Mrs. Franklin apparently had fallen asleep while smoking a cigarette.

Successful Holdups

Two separate holdups occurring within a seven-hour period resulted in the loss of nearly $7000 in Redwood City last week.

Heaviest loser was the Club Village, a tavern at 2345 Middlefield road, where an armed pair seized $6000, most of it withdraw from a bank within the hour for the purpose of cashing payroll checks of workers from the Redwood City industrial area.

The other victims were Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hagen of 1042 Madison avenue, who were bound and gagged on their bed by a pair of bandits who ransacked the house, apparently hunting for receipts from Hagen's bar at 299 Gates street, San Francisco.

Police said they have not as yet established any connection between the crimes.

Fatal Injury

One Moffett Field sailor was killed and two navy companions were hurt when the trio were struck by an auto careening out of control on Bayshore highway near the Rolladium last week as they waited on the side of the highway.

Frederick Watson, 21, AA, Squadron V-R-3, Moffett field, died at 9:21 a.m. at Oak Knoll naval hospital just a few hours after suffering injuries in the mishap.

A Heroic Effort

A 60-year-old crossing guard at the San Mateo and San Bruno avenues intersection in San Bruno used his body as a shield for two eight-year-old school children last week when an automobile went out of control and threatened to run down the youngsters.

The guard, Gustav Beerman, was struck by the car but escaped with minor bruises and a shaking up, police said.

Train Kills Two

Two partners in a San Francisco painting and roofing firm were killed instantly Friday when their pickup truck was struck by a southbound Southern Pacific commuter train at the Linden and Dollar avenue crossing in South San Francisco.

The crushed body of Hugh L. Cavagnaro, 24, was not immediately identifiable.

His partner, 33-year-old Jack E. Herman, was found several feet from the demolished truck minus all but his underwear.

The two men had stopped for warning signals indicating approach of the northbound "Daylight," and had proceeded across when it passed. The San Jose bound train struck their vehicle, a 1952 model pickup truck, at a speed of 60 miles per hour.

Taxpayers Object to Heavy Burden Here

Dear Editor:

TO THE TAXPAYERS OF DALY CITY

Of course you have received your notice of increased taxes on your property. How do you feel about it? Most of us consider it an unfair demand on our rights as taxpayers, being unjust and out of all reason.

As has already been stated by collectors, it is definitely out of all proportion. Other cities are getting together to fight this thing excepting Daly City, and this comes to ask every one of you to help form an association to fight for your rights to to get fair play. This association or group has been started and we are asking you to call the following telephone numbers giving in your name and address. We will then call the first meeting. In the evening after 7 p.m. call Plaza 5-8770, Plaza 5-5865, Plaza 5-1415, Plaza 5-2304. Remember, there is strength in numbers and we need you all.

State's Publishers Will Gather Next Week for Meeting

California newspaper publishers and many others of their profession will get together in San Francisco next week for the annual meeting of the California Newspaper Publishers Association.

It is the first time the Association has ever held its annual meeting in San Francisco, although it maintains a year-around office there, and the Bay metropolis is proud of the honor.

The publishers will have much to ponder at their meeting. Threats to the Constitutionally-guaranteed freedom of the press are perennial and the present has its share of threats—attempts to license newspapers, hitting them with anti-trust suits and denying them access to public documents and to meetings that concern the public's business. These and other like matters will come in for consideration.

The publishers will also talk shop generally as craftsmen always do when they get together—about the price of newsprint, new machinery, new editorial features and advertising gimmicks. It's all part of their constant striving to put out ever-better newspapers for their readers.

It's Home Again for Stanton Couff After 14 Months in Hospital

MR. AND MRS. STANTON COUFF smile for the cameraman, buts it's no trouble for either of them, as Mr. Couff is home again at 109 Wilshire avenue with his wife, Hannah, following 14 months spent in Children's hospital after being stricken with polio. Couff is not fully recovered but neither he nor his wife need anyone to tell them about the worthiness of the March of Dimes campaign. The Record photos

Current Polio Drive Is Most Critical, Says Gov. Warren

Governor Earl Warren, California chairman of the 1953 March of Dimes, today made a direct appeal to the people of the state to support the winning fight against polio.

"In all the years I have served as State Chairman of the March of Dimes, the current campaign is the most critical," the governor said. "Many of our chapters have exhausted all of their funds for patient care, and have gone deeply into debt. If they are to continue serving California as they have in the past, the March of Dimes must have our financial support."

Costs Nearly $1,000,000

Warren pointed out nearly $1,000,000 has been poured into California to help meet the staggering costs of caring for 1952 polio victims. The National Foundation, during the last year, went nearly $7,000,000 into debt to meet the nedes of the stricken across the nation.

The governor cited the 14 year record of the National Foundation and its consistent dedication to the service of polio patients.

March of Dimes funds last year, he said, provided direct financial aid to approximately 80 per cent of al infantile paralysis patients. This aid was in the form of direct payment of hospital bills, nursing and physical therapy fees, transportation charges and the costs of braces, crutches and wheel chairs.

Money Couldn't Buy

"But there were other services," the governor explained, "which money alone could not buy."

These included modern treatment techniques developed through March of Dimes research; surer diagnosis resulting from National Foundation information and professional education programs; scholarships and fellowships with March of Dimes funds to train nurses and physical therapists, and emergency equipment made available through National Foundation chapters and March of Dimes supply depots.

"Throughout this month of January," Warren concluded, "each of us is being given an opportunity to enlist in the battle against polio. By contributing not only money, but time and energy, to the 1953 March of Dimes, we surely can hasten the day when we, and our children need no longer live in fear of this crippling disease."

Short-Time Hitches With Navy Are Offered in March

Young men in the Bay Area of high school age and approximately that, are again offered their annual chance to be short-time sailors in the Naval service, with no strings in the form of long term enlistments attached.

The annual spring course for Naval Reserve "boots" and airmen, designed to give inexperienced young men a taste of the salty life for three months and no more, will open on March 14 at the U. S. Naval Air Station, Oakland, adjacent to Municipal Airport. The course is conducted nationally each year by boses in the Navy's Air Reserve Training Command, of which NAS Oakland is a part.

A second three months' course will begin in June, just after termination of the first.

The young men selected for this introduction to military life will be chosen at NAS Oakland during the next few weeks on a competitive basis. Applicants who score satisfactorily on standard military entrance exams will be eligible for the course.

The course offers the fundamentals of military life and aeronautics in one package. Trainees will earn a recruit's wages of $78.00 monthly, with all clothing, quarters and meals furnished. Upon graduation in mid-June, they can elect either to remain in one of the many Organized Air Reserve squadrons of "weekend warriers" which train in Oakland or return to inactive status in the Naval Reserve. The Navy seeks through this course to swell the ranks of its weekend squadrons, members of which are paid four days pay monthly for one weekend's training.

Civilian Defense Warns Of Unexploded Items

"During World War II, when a new type of time mechanism was encountered in unexploded bombs, many lives of both British and American officers were lost before the proper defusing techniques were developed," declared Major F. R. Spiva of the Sixth Army Explosive Ordnance Division during this week's (February 2) statewide broadcast of the State Office of Civil Defense.

"In this business the first mistake is also the last," Major Spiva declared as he warned civilians about care in dealing with unexploded ordnance. Hand grenades, mortar shells and other wartime souvenirs are constantly being reported to Sixth Army Explosive Ordnance headquarters for

Local Man Writes Poem Dedicated To Men on Front

THE SENTRY'S SONG
By E. Wille

Lonely, forlorn on midnight guard
I pace to and fro the barracks yard,
Think of my girl so lovely, dear,
So far away and yet so near.
When I answered my country's call,
Bid farewell to loved ones all,
She adorned my hat—red, white and blue—
And blushing said, "I shall be true.
I shall wait—want you to know.
Remember this, when you feel low."
Pinned 'pon the lapel of my coat,
A bouquet of forget-me-nots.
She held me close. Her beating heart
Spoke, "Darling, we shall never part."
How I remember, O heavenly bliss,
The sweetness of that parting kiss.
"Darling," I said, "this is good bye,
But don't you worry, never cry.
God loves a soldier, fearless, brave,
And I shall give of all I have."
Saluting, smiling, back I stepped.
My girl bravely smilled, and wept.
Her eyes brimmed over, glittering tears,
Told of her love and hidden fears.
She loves me still, she prays for me,
Morn and night upon her knee.
I feel her close, this lonely night.
Her picture keeps me cheerful, bright.
And as my watch draws near the end
I heavenward a prayer send:
"Good God, ye angels high above,
Protect my girl, a soldier's love."

THE OUTDOORS

½ Million Get Theirs

SAN FRANCISCO—More than half-a-million California hunters took game birds and animals worth at least $15,000,000 in 1951, but it cost them about $50,000,000 in round figures to do it.

That's the latest estimate of the California Department of Fish and Game, which figures this way:

Each California hunter spends at least $100 annually in his pursuit of game, with other credible estimates going as high as $600. (The State agency's cut of this yearly expense is $3, or three per cent, for the hunting license.)

On the basis of a postal survey taken among a random sample of license buyers, Californians took home a total of 19,865,000 pounds of dressed deer, bears, pheasants, doves, pigeons, waterfowl, quail and rabbits.

With the retail price of beef averaging about 75 cents a pound, and domestic fowl going for something like 50 or 60 cents a pound, the Department placed an arbitrary value of 75 cents a dressed pound for California's desirable game meat.

A total of 543,648 persons purchased hunting licenses in the 1951 period covered, the last year for which complete estimates are available.

Put all the figures together, and you'll come up with the astronomical conclusions of the State agency. And even the final total is conservative, as the 1951 harvest of sage hens, tree squirrels, wild hogs and boars, predators and fur-bearing mammals is not included.

Further details of the 1951 hunter harvest:

Deer meat weighed 8,136,000 pounds, from 67,800 animals which averaged 120 pounds dressed; bear meat aggregated 640,000 pounds from 3,250 animals averaging 200 pounds dressed; 517,000 pheasants weighed an average of two pounds dressed for a total of 1,034,000 pounds;

Doves, five ounces each, 877,000 pounds from 2,631,000 birds; pigeons, 12 ounces each, 68,850 pounds from 91,800 birds; ducks, one and-a-half pounds each, 4,422,000 pounds from nearly 3,000,000 birds;

Geese, five pounds each, 2,465,000 pounds from 493,000 birds; quail, six ounces each, 450,000 pounds from a million and-a-half birds;

Jackrabbits, two pounds each, 1,242,000 pounds from 621,000 animals; cottontail and brush rabbits, one pound each, 530,000 pounds.

In addition to reducing California nimrods' meat bills by the $15,000,000 bonus, the Department announcement points out that much of the 1951 bag was of game varieties unobtainable in American restaurants or meat markets—and usually found elsewhere in the world only on the tables of royalty.

But more important than the financial considerations, the Department believes, are the greater intangible rewards of the sport of hunting: a healthy, open-air venture, congenial friends who talk the same language, and the chance to change the every-day routine of living—even if it means only getting away from the wife for a day.

Spotters Nabbed

BAKERSFIELD — Sixteen months in jail is the price being paid by two Delano residents who were arrested hunting deer with the aid of a spotlight.

Robert E. Schlosser and D. L. Banning, both of Delano, were sentenced to 225 days and 250 days, respectively, by Delano Judge Elmer E. Lobre. They were arrested by California Fish and Game Warden Thomas D. White, near Glenville, Kern county.

A Better Trap

SACRAMENTO—State Hunter-Trapper Melvin R. Clover built a better deer trap, and the path to his house in the woods was trod by the State Merit Award Board, bearing a $100 cash prize.

Clover, as an employee of the California Department of Fish and Game, was eligible for a Board award when he suggested an improved deer trap.

His new box trap is made of fish-netting strung on an iron pipe frame. It's light, portable and can be easily moved and set up by one man. The deer is held alive, with a minimum of possible injury, until it can be transferred to a purse net for safe handling.

The new trap fills a need in the Department's deer research program which requires live-trapping for age, sex, growth and movement patterns, based on plastic ear tags now being used on deer.

Clover, 51, is a resident of Lemoncove, Tulare county, and has hunted and trapped for the State agency since 1937.

Most Valuable Fish

OAKLAND—The tagged catfish that John Mueler of San Francisco caught in Clear Lake last summer is in the race for the most valuable California fish of 1952, with the award this month of a $100 cash prize by the Foothill Sportsmen's Club.

Mueller was one of 143 anglers who turned in catfish tags to the Department of Fish and Game last year. The Oakland sports group holds an annual drawing among the cooperating fishermen to select the winner of the $100 prize.

Ed Busalek, past president of the Foothill Club, made the presentation.

Save 50,000 Fish

SACRAMENTO — The wheels from a boy's broken scooter turned out to be the means of saving nearly 50,000 game fish from a drying section of the Delta-Mendota canal.

A fish rescue crew of the California Department of Fish and Game was flagged recently by the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation with the report of many fish stranded in low water at the canal's Mountain House pumping station. The steep concrete banks of the canal prevented rescue operations by the usual means.

In a hurry-up trip to the State's Elk Grove hatchery, Hatcheryman Gus Geibel constructed a small platform cart out of scrap lumber and the wheels from his son's abandoned scooter.

Raised and lowered from the top of the bank with ropes, the unique funicular carried many tubs of fish for later planting in the Old River.

Included in the three-day rescue operation were 49,000 white catfish fingerlings, 550 adults and 63 striped bass ranging from 13 to 24 inches in length.

Jeffs Split Games With Alumni Teams

The Jefferson alumni came back to the local courts Tuesday night and managed to garner a win from the 30s, while being soundly trounced by the varsity, 77-45.

The Jeff 30s led 27-19 at half-time, but as Coach Tony Giammona cleared the bench in the second half, the alums began to score with more ease, and emerged with a 51-43 win.

Don Delbon led the varsity attack with 19 points, while Tom Costello found his eye to hit for 15.

In the 30 contest Ray Villar of Jefferson and Don Wilson of the alumni shared high point honors with 14 each.

Jeffs Cop Twin Bill; Dominate PAL Race

Two smooth-working, well-balanced Jefferson teams fashioned a monopoly over the PAL cage race Friday night as they swept to twin victories over Capuchino on the local court.

The Indians' varsity, behind the point-making trio of Larry Blanchard, Don Delbon and Wayne Lovelace, were never in danger as they wallopped the mustangs 61-31, to take a firm hold on the leadership of the PAL with four victories against no defeats. Blanchard led scoring with 17 points, while Delbon and Lovelace followed up with 16 and 15.

The lightweight fracas found the local hoopsters winning 49-47 after a three-minute overtime, in a game that had the fans on their feet the entire second half. The win gave the Jeff 30s a tie for first in the league. The Caps had previously boasted an undefeated record and are now the co-sharers of the top spot with Jefferson.

The ball game was all tied up early in the third quarter, 21-21. The Jeffs then unleashed a sustained scoring attack, behind the ball-hawking efforts of Center Jerry Yarborough and took a 32-23 lead late in the third quarter.

Their fast-break attack bogged down in the fourth period and the Caps cut the lead to 39-38 with 55 seconds left to play.

Each team rang up a two-pointer in the remaining seconds, to bring the score to 41-40, when a Capuchino man was fouled. He missed on the free one, but a teammate tipped it in on the rebound to put the Mustangs ahead, 42-41. Then with a scant 24 seconds remaining a Cap man was again fouled and made one of the shots good. Seconds later Jeff Forward Art Reynor was fouled and made both shots count, winding the score up at 43-43.

The Jeffs hit for four free throws, one field goal, in the overtime to capture the contest.

Yarborough and Reynor led the 30s attack with 11 markers apiece, while Al Lagomarsino hit for ten.

BRISBANE TEAMS TAKE 2 CAGE CONTESTS HERE

The boys from the Brisbane playgrounds came to Daly City last Saturday and gave the locals a lesson in the fundamentals of basketball.

Brisbane jumped into the lead of the newly formed league by defeating Colma 40 to 10. Ray Vuillemainroy led the scoring parade by pouring through the Colma defense for 24 points.

The game was dominated by the stubborn Brisbane boys who put up an excellent defense, scored well and did a magnificent job on the rebounds.

Colma did well in the first two quarters, but were never close afterward.

O.L.P.H. was awarded the second game because of the default by the Bayshore team which failed to show up.

O.L.P.H. Bs Win Opener

The O.L.P.H. B team, composed of 7th graders, came through to win the only game of the day for the young home town audience. The mighty mites of Perpetual Help defeated the Bayshore Bs 20 to 14.

The Brisbane Bs were not afraid to follow the lead of their bigger brothers. They defeated the Colma Bs 46 to 8 in a very one-sided game. Again the Colma defense showed signs of weakening under pressure.

Gary Ryan led the way for the Brisbane boys with 16 points followed closely by Gene Firth and Jerry Wallace with 10 points each.

Tomorrow all teams are scheduled to play again with the Bayshore teams meeting Brisbane and the Colma teams meeting O.L.P.H. The games will begin at 10:30 a.m. at the Jefferson gym.

THREE INDIANS AMONG TOP FIVE LEAGUE SCORERS

The list of the top five scorers in the PAL to date reads almost like the roster of the Jefferson basketball team.

The Indians hold down three of the five spots. Larry Blanchard with 66 points, is runner-up behind Burlingame Center Charley Bogle, who leads the scoring race with 87 markers.

In fourth and fifth spots are Wayne Lovelace and Don Delbon, with 59 and 58 points, respectively.

The Jeffs well-balanced scoring machinery has been one of the big factors in their currently hold on the PAL leadership.

Merced Auxiliary Is Host for Tanforan

The Lake Merced Auxiliary 9921 held their regular business meeting Jan. 27 at the Broadmoor community center and welcomed visiting members of the Tanforan Auxiliary 2517.

Visiting the local Auxiliary were: Florence Sherman, president; Irene Aurand, Katherine Okulone, Genevive Clark, Ella Schlamm and Jessylyn Walsh.

The last two honored the group by filling vacant officers chairs for the evening.

The highlight of the evening was the initiation of a new member, Mrs. Lenata Costa, who resides on Beechwood street in Broadmoor. The group expressed its pleasure at having the new member with them.

An important business matter was an urgent call for Auxiliary members to donate a pint of blood on February 5 when the mobile unit will be at the Village Presbyterian church. The members all decided to go as a group and urged all other members who were able to be there on that date.

The rummage sale held Jan. 26 by the Auxiliary was highly successful. The Auxiliary extended its thanks to readers of THE RECORD for cooperating by sending in their rummage.

The apron sale will be held at King's Market February 13 and 14. There will be a wide variety of aprons, including "mother and daughter," novel aprons and the conventional type.

TOO MUCH ECONOMY

Although it is not a sin of which many motorists are guilty, there is such a thing as overdoing the economy of a lean carburetor mixture, points out the National Automobile Club. Beyond a certain point it is bound to result in a loss of power. Moreover, the chances of backfiring are increased with the greater likelihood of causing a fire if the engine is covered with an oily waste in the vicinity of the carburetor.

FIRST DATE-PACKING PLANT

The first date-packing plant on a commercial scale in California was established at Coachella in Riverside county, according to the National Automobile Club.

SF State Graduates and Guests Hold Evening of Dancing

C of C May Handle Spring Festival

A request that the spring festival parade be handled jointly by the Chamber of Commerce and the city council was drawn up by the recreation commission at their meeting Tuesday night.

James Mason, recreation director, and Dan Andersen, city administrator, have both expressed favor with the plan.

Applications from three groups to make use of the community center in the future were considered by the commission and forwarded to the city council for their approval.

The fire department requested that they be allowed use of the building on May 9 or 16 for the annual firemen's ball.

Use of the center for graduation exercises was asked by the Jefferson elementary school district. The district also asked to be allowed use of the center for a music concert in May.

Mrs. Albert Axt, girl scout neighborhood chairman, made a request that the girl scouts be allowed to use the building early in March.

James Mason, recreation director, submitted a survey on fees and rentals of the building to the members of the commission, who will come to a decision at their next meeting, February 27.

Plans for a full scale recreation program at the center for elementary school children were also discussed.

Two new playground directors were appointed by the commission.

Rich Milkovich was assigned to Westlake while Bobby Carroll will be director at Edgewood park. Lorraine Cady will now serve at the middle level at Marchbanks park.

The recreation director announced that he will conduct a survey to see what use other cities are making of volunteer playground leaders.

Date for the Lions club art contest was postponed until February 28 and 29.

The commission also received a letter from the San Mateo county probation department and juvenile hall thanking the local department for candy donated to the juvenile hall.

New Farm Lands Get Veterans Priority

Veterans will have first rights to more than 300 farms being offered for homesteading or for sale in the West during 1953, according to Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer of San Mateo county. Theirs will be the first names selected for public drawings which will establish priority rights to obtain the land.

"A new group of farm units," Granger said, "has been put up for sale by the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation in the Columbia Basin irrigation project, Washington, with 150 more to be sold later this year. Other land openings are scheduled in California's All-American Canal Project, in Arizona's Gila Project, and in Idaho, Wyoming and South Dakota."

Granger advised that irrigated land will also be opened later this year in California's Klamath area. He said veterans of World War II and the Korean period have first priority rights in most cases.

Some of this land, Granger explained, will be opened to homestead entry, which means that settlers will not have to pay for it. Other farmland will be sold by the Government at reasonable prices. It should be possible to harvest first crops in 1954.

Among eligibility requirements are two years of full time farming experience and $4500 in assets to help get the farm started.

Veterans interested in the All-American Canal and Gila Projects may write to the Bureau of Reclamation, Administration Building, Boulder City, Nevada. Those interested in the Columbia Project may get application forms by writing to the Bureau of Reclamation, Ephrata, Washington. Further details are obtainable from the Bureau of Reclamation, Post Office Box 2511, Sacramento, California.

"We want more than just enough for children's schools. We want the best, if it is within our help to make it so," they continued.

TRIO NAME LOCAL MAN IN SUIT FOR $11,000 DAMAGES

Three musicians have named Martin J. Finnerty, 52, of 116 Lake Vista avenue, in a suit for $110,000 damages because of the injury of a fourth musician, a member of their quartet.

The vernon Alley jazz quartet filed the suit in a San Francisco superior court, last week.

Earl Watkins of San Francisco, a drummer, has also filed a damage suit against Finnerty asking $25,000 for the injury he allegedly suffered in an accident at Bay and Taylor streets, San Francisco, in which Finnerty was involved.

The three plaintiffs allege a number of jobs were lost because of the inability of the fourth member to play due to injuries. Vernon Alley leader of the combo and bass viol player, wants $5000. Jerome Richardson, flute and saxophone player, wants $3000, while Richard Wyands, piano player, asks $3000.

PTA VOLUNTEERS PREPARE FOR MOTHERS' MARCH

More than 2,000 volunteers from individual school Parent-Teachers associations throughout San Mateo county today were preparing to participate in the 1953 "Mothers March" the evening of Tuesday, February 3, it was announced today.

"We are fortunate in having the PTA groups again taking charge of this vital phase of the annual 'March of Dimes' drive," T. J. Hallinan, director of the campaign in this county, said. "They really are taking hold of the porch light parade for collections for our polio fund, and we join them in the hope that all homes with lights out front burning will be visited."

Hallinan pointed out that all persons desiring to contribute to the "March of Dimes" on February 3 as the "Mothers March" volunteers cover San Mateo county should "turn on your porch light between the hours of 7 and 8 p.m."

He stressed the importance of turning them off again after one of the hundreds of volunteers has called for the donation, so that there will be no duplication of effort in some areas. In apartments, he suggested residents "tie a scarf or old shoe on their doors indicating they wish to contribute, too."

The members of the 17th District of the California Congress of Parent-Teachers which covers San Mateo county again heartily endorsed participating in the "Mothers March" on the evening of February 3, Hallinan added, as they did in 1952. The local county organization this year is headed by Mrs. Harry Caplan, of 418 Gilbert avenue in Menlo Park, with Mrs. L. E. Engleman serving as Community Service chairman for the county PTA organization and coordinating the "Mothers March."

Co-chairman in three sections of the county are Mrs. Gordon DeBrune, of 11 So. Invest in your Childen's Future...

Here's a small investment that can pay the biggest dividend of your life . . . THE PROPER EDUCATION FOR YOUR CHILDREN . . .

In the Jefferson elementary school district 1,731 children are now attending double sessions—not counting the kindergartens—some of which are conducting slightly shorter sessions.

Children are on the streets at hours when they should be in school. . . . The phenomenal growth of the district and the predicted increase for the future means . . . that the children will suffer unless adequate buildings and facilities are provided to alleviate this serious problem.

Why should the children pay the penalty?

For the cost of one to two cigarettes a day we can guarantee that our children will receive the full . . . wholesome education . . . that every American child is entitled to.

A VOTE OF YES on the SCHOOL BOND ISSUE on THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 5 . . . will place our children in the cherished educational ranks of America . . . instead of pushing them into the background with the neglected few.

By bonding the local district to the maximum ($840,000) . . . the Jefferson elementary school district can obtain up to $910,000 from the State School Building Fund.

We owe it to our children that they not be denied their educational rights!!!

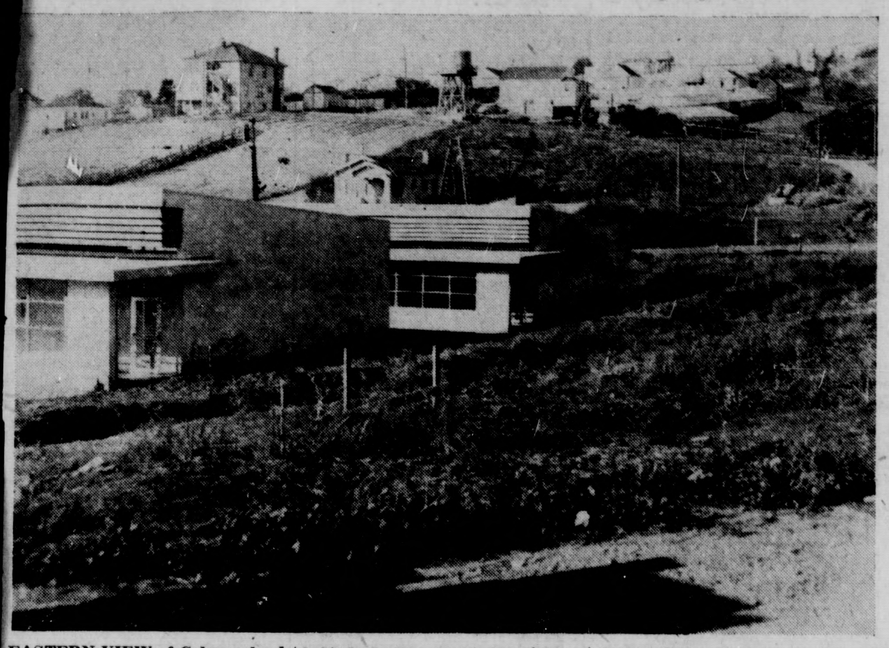
EDUCATION-The Big Problem

Briar Patch Will Be Removed -- Buildings Going Up



EASTERN VIEW of Colma school. Two new units will be built as extensions of existing structures. There will also be a parallel unit behind further unit in picture. Panorama of gnarled stumps, brush and general shoddiness at right will be changed to that of streamlined new buildings by next September, it is hoped.

Double Sessions Might End But Schools Face New Crisis in Growing Enrollment

It's a never-ending cycle—Superintendent of Jefferson Elementary School District H. Z. Weibel made the statement recently that with completion of school facilities under construction now the Daly City double sessions could come to an end with the beginning of the '53 fall term.

The problem is, as Weibel points out, that construction of 2500 new Westlake homes in the district will bring an estimated 2200 more children to add to the present enrollment of 3460.

Construction of added classroom space is now taking place on five building sites. By utilizing multi-use rooms and all special activities rooms as classrooms it is probable that the children can be enrolled on a regular session next September.

But the crux of the problem is, this situation can last only for a short time. Next year's schools might serve adequate for this year's enrollment, but the burgeoning enrollment cannot be stopped. Not only that, but by utilizing all extra space in order to hold regular sessions, the children are handicapped in that they will be getting their schooling in rooms built for other purposes. Essential services such as library, music, speech, health, school, lunch, assemblies and physical education also suffer from the arrangement.

CLASSROOM BOX SCORE

(The number of classroom spaces which should be available in September, 1953, are as follows):

Colma school	28
Crocker	6
Benjamin Franklin	4
Pershing	10
Jefferson	10
Garden Village Primary	16
Woodrow Wilson	16
Thornton	4
Westlake	16

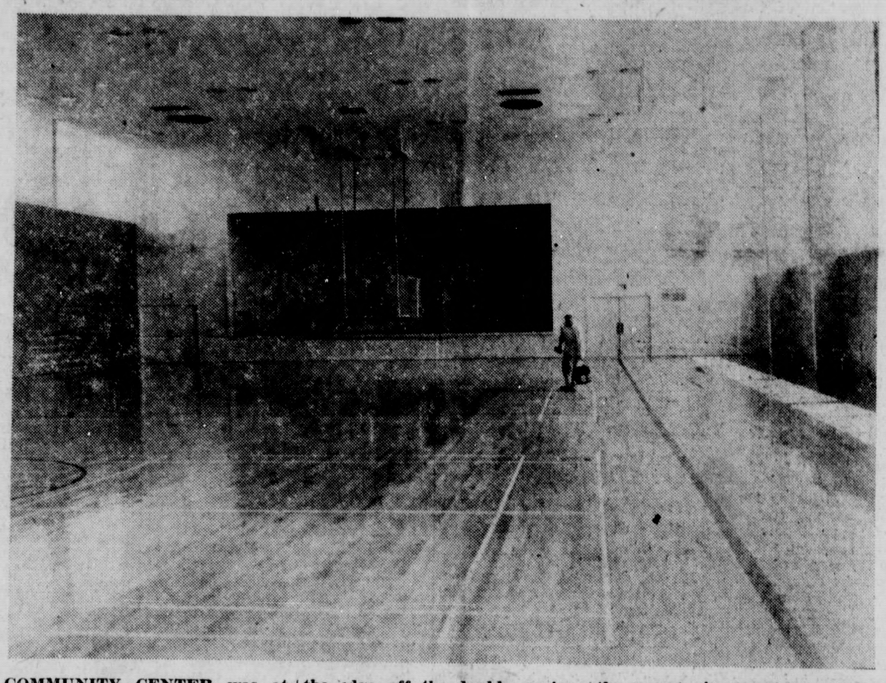
Barren Land Will Be Replaced With Modern Buildings

THIS SCENE will be transformed into one of modern new buildings with completion of planned project. A new unit, parallel with one pictured, will be constructed here at the Colma school to left of where children stand. A multi-use room will be built in background (near benches). All in all there will be 14 new classrooms, including a library, science room, art room and industrial arts room.

Workers Ready Garden Village Additions

GARDEN VILLAGE school additions are underway at present. Under construction there now are a kindergarten room, special activities room, Multi-use room, and six classrooms which will at least act as stop-gap efforts in the solving of the too-many-children, not-enough-space problem.

Community Center -- A Partial Answer to the Problem?



COMMUNITY CENTER was at one time, and perhaps still, considered as a possible site for educating the youngsters, cutting the edge off the double sessions problem. Council recently assented to use of the building for classrooms. However, with failure of the recent city bond for completion of the structure, facilities there are not yet adequate, nor do they meet safety standards, for educating Daly City's children.

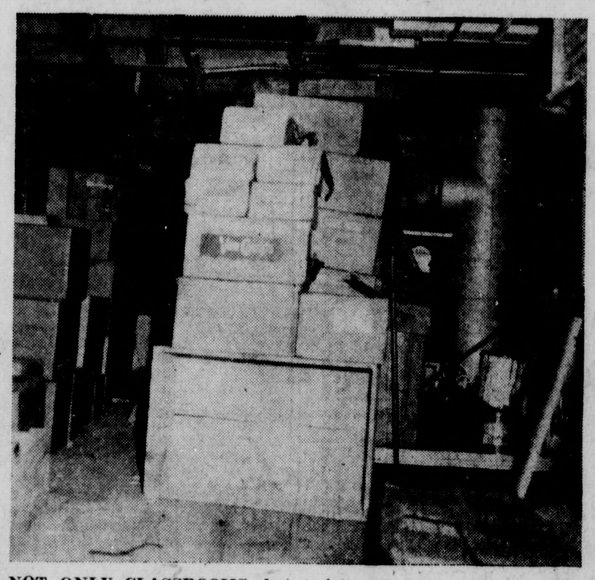
Some Go To School in Church Building

THE CHURCH becomes a place of "readin, ritin and rithmetic" as well as worship as some 180 children receive their school here in double sessions at the Broadmoor Community Presbyterian church. The church offered use of the building to the district for a small fee. Second and third graders attend here and the schooling is under the jurisdiction of the Garden Village school.

Classrooms Crammed With Kids a Familiar Scene

PICTORIAL EVIDENCE of congestion in schools is this comparatively recent scene of children in the General Pershing school. Although this year's district budget of over one million was almost double the $450,000 figure for the previous year, the race of money versus population finds the latter coming out on the long end.

Everywhere It Seems To Be the Same



NOT ONLY CLASSROOMS, but other facilities prove highly inadequate. Pictured above is the elementary school district's store room, a place where everything from books to inflammable materials are kept. Future building plans, however, call for a new store room, but problem is—with new growth will that structure also be inadequate?

More Room Means More Education, Better Education

AN EDUCATOR'S DELIGHT is this class room in the Westlake school. When plotting is done to map out future rooms, the planners have in mind a situation like this for all children. But by the time the structures are completed, a new crop of youngsters have returned the scene to that pictured at far left.

Highway Patrol Cautions Sleepy, Tired Drivers

SACRAMENTO—The California Highway Patrol had a special note of caution today for motorists who try to cram two days of driving into one.

Patrol headquarters said squad commanders throughout the state have reported a growing number of accidents involving sleepy or tired drivers.

A preliminary breakdown of 1952 statistics shows at least 2000 fatal and injury accidents can be charged to those causes. At least 100 were fatal, killing one or more persons.

Officials said some accidents in the "cause unknown" classification were probably also the results of falling asleep at the wheel. Lack of survivors made complete investigation difficult, they added.

Winter was singled out as an especially dangerous time for this type of accident since the combination of closed car windows and car heaters frequently adds to any fatigue brought on by too many hours behind the wheel.

Ford Director Will Drive Convertible To Pace Big Race

Indianapolis, Jan 7 — William Clay Ford, a director of Ford Motor Company and grandson of the late Henry Ford, will drive a 1953 Ford Sunliner convertible to pace the 37th anual 500-mile automobile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway May 30.

Selection of a Ford-built passenger car to lead the field across the starting line in the International Classic for the fifth time was announced by Wilbur Shaw, president and general manager of the Speedway, at the traditional pace car party Monday night (Jan. 26) at the Indianapolis Athletic Club.

Shaw will ride with Ford on the pace lap, and the Sunliner, biggest selling convertible in America, will be presented to the winning driver at the annual Victory Dinner the night following the race.

Entries for the race will be accepted until midnight, April 15, and an all-time record total of more than 80 cars probably will be nominated. Only the 33 fastest entries, however, will be permitted to compete for the huge purse which has exceeded $200,000 annually for the past three years. Time trials, beginning May 16, will determine the starting field.

L. D. Crusoe, general manager of Ford Division, which produced the pace car, said, "we appreciate the honor of being chosen, especially in this, Ford's 50th anniversary year. We feel the Ford Sunliner is the finest convertible being made in this country—it is by far the popular in point of sales."

Ford has been associated with the Indianapolis race for almost three decades and William Clay Ford will follow his father and two elder brothers as driver of the pace car for the world-famous event at the two-and-a-half mile oval.

The late Henry Ford was intensely interested in the yearly event and served as honorary referee for the 1924 race. His only son, the late Edsel Ford, drove the 1932 pace car—a Lincoln.

Henry Ford II, president of Ford, paced the 1946 race in a Lincoln Continental, and his brother, Bensen, company vice president and head of the Lincoln-Mercury Division, drove a Mercury pace car in 1950.

In addition, a Ford V-8 passenger car was the pace-maker for the 1935 race.

Color of the Ford Sunliner is "Pace Car White," a new creamy white exterior paint. The car will have special trim features, centering around Ford's "Anniversary Gold" as an interior color marking the observance of the company's 50th anniversary this year.

It will be equipped with a V-8 engine, Fordomatic transmission and other standard factory-approved accessories, including the new Coronado Deck rear wheel mount.

Top grained leather seats are of "Pearlescent Pace Car White" with Anniversary Gold bolsters. The instrument panel, garnish molding and instrument cluster inserts are of Anniversary Gold finish.

The thick black floor carpeting is made of a special deep pile mohair with sponge rubber backing, and the door panels are covered with leather.

Panels just beneath the door garnish molding are vinyl with a black patent leather finish, and the remainder of the panel is covered with white and gold leather.

The convertible top is rich white orlon fabric and has a snap-on boot of matching white orlon for use when the top is down.

Exterior body trim is standard for the Ford Sunliner except for pace car lettering on the sides, and a new crossed flag insignia surmounted by the Ford Crest on the front fender panels just to the rear of the front wheels.

Cub Pack 84 Gets All Possible Awards

Cub pack 84 has announced that it has received for 1952 from the Boy Scouts of America all awards ever given to a Cub Pack: attendance, membership, progress, registration on time, and the thrift club.

He was thanked for the fine work he has been doing with the cubs. He expects to be even more active in scouting, however, for he will now be assistant scoutmaster of troop 84.

Cub Pack 84 is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. For four years, Al Toschi has been the Auxiliary's representative to Pack 84. Now he has asked to be relieved of his duties.

"Health" Is Topic At Hillside PTA Meeting Last Wed.

The Hillside PTA meeting held last Wednesday evening featured "Health—Today and Tomorrow!" Mrs. Pauline Bertetta has been the health chairman for the unit. She was fortunate to obtain as a speaker the District Attorney, Mr. Louis B. Dematteis. The effects of what he said will remain with the parents a long time. He enlightened his listeners to the dangers of narcotics in our county. As parents, we must do our utmost to have wholesome supervised recreation for the young people of our community. The home also must teach the child the dangers of narcotics in every form. Mr. Dematteis brought with him pictures of marijuana and samples of the cigarettes.

The unit has planned to hold popcorn sales for the students. Mrs. Fred Kruse is the chairman for the popcorn sales.

Mrs. Frank Klassen and Mrs. Charles Hansen are working on the rag drive that is to be held Feb. 2nd to Feb. 6th. Hats, shoes and burlap cannot be accepted because the salvage company cannot use them.

The nominating committee was chosen at the last meeting. They will report at the March meeting. The members include: Miss Marjorie Tobias, principal of Colma school, Mrs. John Sorensen, Mrs. Fred Kruse, Mrs. Thomas Mullen and Mrs. Russell Johns.

A life membership committee was also chosen. Mrs. J. D. Hopper is the chairman, being a life membership holder herself. The rest of the committee include: Mrs. John Hiller, Mrs. E. A. Beber, Mrs. A. Gaggero and Mrs. Fred Bertetta.

Frank Blum, city attorney, spoke a few minutes on the coming school bond vote. We must vote "yes" on both issues to be able to get the money for the school district that the voters voted for last November. Our district is having "growing pains" and we must do our utmost to see that our children do not have to go to triple sessions to get their schooling.

Marjorie Tobias, school principal, has announced that after the opening of Benjamin Franklin school between the middle of February and the middle of March, all eighth grade classes will go on regular sessions.

The unit is assisting in the Mother's March for the polio fund on Feb. 3rd. The time is 7 to 8 p.m. PLEASE PUT YOUR PORCH LIGHT ON!

School Children View Inauguration

All of the students of both the R. S. Thornton and the Jefferson Elementary schools were able to view the inauguration ceremonies last Tuesday morning. A TV set was installed in each school through the untiring efforts of Sanford Vickers, whose wife is president of the Colma PTA. The sets were loaned by Ben Woodward, and the Central Radio & TV Co. The wholehearted thanks of the children and teachers of the two schools, and the members of the Colma PTA go to these gentlemen for their donations and assistance.

Mrs. Vickers stressed the need of every voter's help in putting over the coming school bond election, Feb. 5.

"A two-thirds marjority of the votes cast is needed for the passage of these measures," stated Mrs. Vickers. The Colma PTA is assisting in the mailing of the campaign literature for the election, by addressing envelopes.

The bookbinding group is meeting on Tuesday mornings at 9:15 in the Jefferson elementary school's teachers' room. If you can give an hour or so, please plan to attend. Almost 50 books have been rebound and made usable again.

It's kind to clothes. An automatic dryer cuts down color fading, ends wind-fraying. Chenilles and similar fabrics come out soft, wrinkle-free. All your laundry dries out fluffy and fresh-smelling. For easy ironing, you just set dryer control for "damp."

It's cheap to operate—just pennies a week to use a modern automatic clothes dryer in California. Why don't you let P. G. and E.'s bargain gas and electricity do more of your work, save you more time, bring you more comfort!

CHAIRMAN SELECTED FOR COUNTY TB RAPID TEMPO CHEST X-RAY SURVEY

T. F. McGuigan, assistant cashier of the Burlingame branch of Bank of America, has accepted the chairmanship of the rapid tempo free chest X-ray survey of San Mateo county residents, scheduled to begin March 9 and continue for one month. Alvin S. Hatch, chairman of the county Board of Supervisors, Dr. Harold Chope, Medical Director of the county Health Department, Dr. Alf T. Haerem, president of the San Mateo County Medical Society, Robert Wood, Jr., Executive Secretary of the Medical Society and Dr. St. J. Lester Russell, president of the San Mateo County Tuberculosis and Health Association jointly announced McGuigan's appointment today. Under the capable direction of this well-known civic leader who is past president of the Burlingame Chamber of Commerce, president of the San Mateo County Council of Chambers of Commerce, and active in Red Cross and Community Chest work, and with the backing of a resolution to support the undertaking, passed unanimously by the Board of Supervisors, and the support of the Health Department, the Medical Society and the TB Association, the project has very chance of success.

T. F. McGuigan

In accepting the appointment, McGuigan said, "This 'mass survey' is a matter of vital importance to every resident of San Mateo county. The continued health and well-being of every one of us depends on its success, and in order to make it a success every member of our service clubs, church groups, women's organizations, PTA units, city governments, welfare associations and each individual citizen must put his shoulder to the wheel and carry his share of the responsibility. Here is a fine opportunity for all of us to work together for the common good, a tie uniting all separate interests into a single purpose. I am willing to give of my time and energy to this tremendous health project X-raying fifty thousand people, but I cannot do it alone.

"I appeal to every loyal San Mateo county resident to give me his cooperation and support. If we all work together, we can do the job and the burden on each one will be light. I am making this public appeal to all organizations, to give due consideration to the 'mass survey' immediately and to volunteer their services at once, in order to facilitate the maze of organizational work necessary to such an undertaking. Here is our opportunity to show the rest of country the true democratic method by which we extend a service to our community."

Westlake Group To Receive Advice On Tree Problem

by the Board of Directors

One of the largest past expenses of the Association has been the replacing of trees and in many cases the failure of even the replacements to survive. The Superintendent of Parks of Daly City, Mr. Conci, has generously offered his services as a free advisor to our Board to help them solves this problem in the most intelligent manner. This should save the Association many dollars by one permanent planting of the correct species and subsequent proper care, results will be in evidence in years to come by the greater beauty of our area. The Board is greatly indebted to Mr. Conci for his offer as he not only possesses a vast knowledge of this subject but has also had many years of experience in this portion of the country. Mr. Conci will collaborate with the Chairman of the Architectural Committee, Mr. C. Norton and great progress is anticipated.

The bids on safety signs have been received. A survey report is due and as soon as the number of signs is decided upon and the necessary permission obtained, they will be installed. Four "School Crossing" signs have been ordered and will be presented to Mr. Weibel, Superintendent of Schools, for use at our own Westlake School. This presentation will occur at the next Board of Directors meeting, February 2, 1953.

The Board, after investigating the activities and resources of the Westlake Cub and Boy Scout troops, found them pressed for funds with which to obtain equipment necessary to the development of the boys. They voted to contribute $100.000 to each group to assist them in their needs which far exceed this amount. These groups are invaluable as assets to any healthy, progressive community.

The 1953 Dues and Assessment have been set again at $7.00. This is little enough for all the good the Association intends to accomplish this year. Which "Block" will be the first to send their payments in and become the first Block to attain 100% Membership?—YOURS?

Don't forget—The next Board of Directors meeting is February 2, 1953. Monday, 8 p.m., at your Clubhouse. . . . Refreshments after the meeting.

The name of Mrs. William Rosener, 53 Clifton Drive, PLaza 5-9291, should have been included in last weeks article as a member of the Clubhouse Committee.

INDUSTRIAL VISION AUTHORITY SPEAKS AT OPTOMETRISTS MEET

The San Mateo County Optometric Association was addressed by Dr. Henry Peters of the University of California School of Optometry at its regular meeting Jan. 19, 1953, held at Beresford Park school in San Mateo.

Dr. Peters, authority on Industrial Vision, stressed the responsibility of optometrists to provide workers in industry with the latest materials and newest techniques "in order to insure maximum job efficiency and eye protection."

County Librarians Visit Here; Talk On Children's Books

Recently the Daly City public library was visited by seventeen branch librarians from various parts of this county all connected with the San Mateo county library. They came to hear and participate in a talk on children's literature.

Mrs. Marian Garthwaite, head of children's work in the San Mateo county library, the speaker, has arranged several talks on this subject. She outlined the early development of children's literature in England and early puritan America, showing guests samples of the old horn books and battledores used by New England children in the seventeenth century.

Then she stressed the points to look for in a good book, touching on the makeup (that is, whether it is strong and durable); the print being a size not to hurt children's eyes; the readability; the illustrations (whether appropriate and well done) and the clarity, dignity and good English used. These and several other points were emphasized.

When children should start to use books, Mrs. Garthwaite stated, depends on their parents. Schools and libraries have their part, too, in forming good reading habits. The understanding adult can help growing children make their choice of books and lead them to appreciate and care for them, she said.

Mrs. Garthwaite believes that librarians have the rare opportunity of awakening the child's imagination to a larger world than he instinctively knows, by opening avenues he can only come on through books. The next lecture will be held at Daly City public library on February 5 at 9:30 a.m.

Robert J. Martinelli Is Home on Furlough

Robert J. Martinelli, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Martinelli, 18 W. Market street, was home on leave the past week.

Martinelli enlisted in the Seabees last June and reported for training September 3. He was assigned to Co. 740 which graduated December 7. Co. 740 has the honor of being a meat ball company and their picture is in the book, "Abe," the famous newsboy-1953 issue.

After basic training Martinelli entered the U. S. Naval hospital at San Diego for a slight operation on his leg. He has recuperated and is feeling fine.

A local youth Martinelli graduated from Jefferson grammar school, went on to Jefferson high school for two years, then transferred to Serra high school in San Mateo, from which he graduated in 1951.

He left Tuesday to report back to duty in San Diego.

On his way he will stop off at Madera to visit with his brother, Lorrin William Martinelli, and family.

NEWS FROM THE SCHOOLS

WESTLAKE SCHOOL NEWS
Mrs. Fisher's 5th grade a.m.

In our Room 11, of the morning session, we are engrossed in big things. Soon our Lincoln essays will be written and turned in to a board of judges. We wish everyone participating, "Good luck."

Among the big things happening to us fifth graders was seeing the Presidential inauguration. We were invited to the homes of Mrs. Woods and Mrs. Fredrickson where we enjoyed seeing our new President take office. We realize that it was history in the making.

We are carrying on an extensive health program in our room both in theory and practice. We have been quite healthy through the wet, rainy season and we are trying to prevent colds. We are practicing the best health habits and it is really beneficial, for we have had almost perfect attendance in our room.

Miss Hill's 5th grade p.m.

Our government was the topic discussed in a recent make-believe radio program in Room 11 at Westlake school. Three volunteers were the news commentators. Their report for this program was a review of the inauguration. As they reported the rest of the class took notes. After the radio broadcast, the class discussed the inauguration news.

Studebaker Offers Mechanical Power Steering for '53

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan. 26—Mechanical power steering—the first time it has been offered for passenger car use—tops the engineering improvements revealed today for Studebaker's 1953 models. It will be currently available as extra-cost optional equipment on Commanders and Land Cruisers and will be offered later in the year on the Champion series.

Developed by the Borg-Warner corporation, Studebaker's power steering system differs from others now in use in that it is mechanical rather than hydraulic and obtains its power directly from the engine.

Chief elements in the new steering system consist of a power unit mounted on the steering gear, a power input shaft, and a pulley assembly. The power unit, heart of the steering innovation, is a compact 6" x 6" device weighing only 22 pounds. Inside it are a gear train and two multiple disc clutches rotating in opposite directions. One of the clutches provides power for turns to the left, the other for turns to the right.

Power is delivered to the steering unit direct from the engine by means of a V-belt pulley on a small auxiliary shaft running parallel to the engine and back to the steering mechanism.

The ring gears inside the power unit revolve constantly while the engine is running, but do so at only one-fourth the speed of the engine. When the driver turns the steering wheel to the right, the lower ring gear and clutch come into play and transfer power from the engine to the steering gear, reducing by 75 per cent the effort that would normally be expended by the driver to make the turn. When a left turn is made, the upper ring gear and clutch swing into action and accomplish a similar transfer of power.

Borg-Warner and Studebaker engineers point out that mechanical power steering can increase four times the steering effort put forth by the driver. Put another way, if 12 pounds of effort are required by the driver to make a turn, power steering will reduce this effort to only three pounds. The additional power does not come into play, however, until the driver has expended at least two or more pounds of turning effort. If for any reason the power steering should become inoperative, the conventional manual control immediately available so that the driver is at all times in complete command of the car.

Mechanical power steering as offered on Studebaker's 53 models is simple in construction. There are no valves, no hydraulic lines, no pump, no fluid reservoir. Any lubricant is used, and those whose cars are equipped with mechanical power steering are asked to have this unit checked whenever the car goes a general chassis lubrication.

"Caught in a trap? Not my child," you say.

But think a minute . . . think ahead a few years. What kind of school will they spend their time in? Will it be a crowded building with huge classes . . . too few teachers . . . inadequate supplies . . . and too few hours?

If it is . . . they'll be trapped alright. They'll be getting a second rate education that may hold them back for the rest of their lives.

The top flight career they might have had . . . the skills and talents they might have developed . . . all these may be lost forever to them.

Their loss will also be ours, our town's . . . and our country's. . . .
